Flag Day is June 14. Fly Your Flag Proudly!

The first official Flag Day was proclaimed in 1916. The day commemorates the adoption of the flag in 1777. The idea had been around a long time before President Woodrow Wilson made it official. As early as 1861, a number of people and organizations worked to put the day on the national calendar. Displaying the flag on Flag Day today is considered an act of patriotism and hope.

Protect Your Home's Roof from Summer Damage

With the first official day of summer this month, it's time to get ready for the heat. But with that heat comes the potential for damage to your home's roof. To head off any potential problems, here are some tips to help you take care of your roof this summer.

- Make sure all gutters and downspouts are clear, and water can flow freely.
- Check for cracking or missing shingles.
- Have a skylight, don't forget to check for debris on the top side of it.
- Check to ensure that your attic ventilation is doing its job correctly (read more below).
- Check for and block any places where small creatures could enter.

- Check for mold. Mold damage can happen fast during the hot summer.
- Check for water stains on your eaves and overhangs.

If you spot any potential issues with your roof and need an expert to advise on what to do next, contact us today. We are here to help.

The Importance of Proper Attic Ventilation

Your attic's ventilation plays a reasonably significant role in keeping your roof in good condition. If you notice that your cooling bills seem to keep going up, especially compared to what they cost you last year, it might be worth your time to call in a professional and have them take a look at your attic's ventilation system. This is also an excellent time to inspect your insulation and make sure that everything is in order. Keeping your insulation and your ventilation system in good working condition can save you a great deal of money on your cooling costs this summer.
