Is That A Haunted House Or Just Some Scary Looking Shingles?

Depending on the spooky sounds, unexplained drafts, and bumps in the night...you may have yourself a roofing problem! No (skeleton) bones about it!

Only a roof inspection can help you determine if your property is ready for the chill of the next few months.

It's not just witchful thinking - With a simple call, our experts can help to lift your property's spirits and make sure your house is ready for the fall and winter.

A Happy Halloween For Every Single Kid

Every single child deserves to have fun on Halloween! Do what you can to help make sure that each and every kid on your doorstep gets the treats and tricks that they deserve.

- The Teal Pumpkin Project

- For a variety of reasons, from food allergies or development concerns, not every kid is lucky enough to enjoy Halloween like others their age. For those kids, a small trinket - like a trinket, themed toy, or glow stick - is a great way to be able to enjoy door-to-door visits! If you would like to demonstrate to your trick-or-treaters that you have such accommodations, you can add a teal-painted pumpkin (or teal pumpkin flag) to your doorstep!

- Peanut-Free Candy Options

- Some kids may be able to have some candy. But if they are one of the millions of Americans with a peanut allergy, their options are clearly limited. Consider offering peanut-free candy options this Halloween

- Don't Force Kids To Say "Trick Or Treat"...They May Not Be Able To

- Just like the teal pumpkins that you may see on your neighbor's doorsteps, you also may see kids carrying teal or blue pumpkin buckets. In some instances, that may be a parent suggesting that an individual may not be non-verbal or otherwise may be unable to physically say the words Trick Or Treat, Please, and Thank You. So even if they are not carrying a different color pumpkin bucket - celebrate the Halloween spirit but don't make a big to-do about forcing kids to say the magic words before handing out the candy.

Preparing Your Property For The Holiday Season

All this talk of Halloween also means that the holiday season is just around the corner. Make sure your house is in order before it's too late!

It is much easier to care for your property's roofing structure NOW instead of in the dead of winter. Schedule a consultation now to save yourself from big problems at the end of the year.
